Health Insurance for the Aged: Amounts Reimbursed, by State and County, 1968

THIS REPORT, covering data for calendar year 1968, is the second summary of enrollment and reimbursement data by State and county under the Medicare program. The first summary report contained data on reimbursements made during the 18-month period from July 1966 through December 1967. Reimbursements made during 1968 are shown in the present report for each State in table 1 and by county in table 2. Current monthly reimbursement amounts for the program as a whole are published in the Social Security Bulletin.

The health insurance program for the aged, commonly called Medicare, was enacted on July 30, 1965, as Title XVIII of the Social Security Act, a part of the 1965 amendments (Public Law 89-97), and became effective July 1, 1966. The program makes available two separate but coordinated coverages—hospital insurance (HI), covering nearly all persons aged 65 and over, and supplementary medical insurance (SMI), covering those persons in this age group who enroll voluntarily and pay the required premiums. Changes in the program were incorporated in the Social Security Amendments of 1967 (Public Law 90-248) and are described below under “Benefits of the Program.”

The reimbursement data for hospital insurance and supplementary medical insurance, which are presented in tables 1 and 2 by State and county (and other pertinent jurisdictions), represent amounts paid for the most part in 1968 to, or on behalf of, insured persons. (Records of reimbursements made in 1966 and 1967 but received too late to be included in the previous report are also included.) The amounts are based on information from provider bills entered in Social Security Administration records through June 1969 and are listed according to the State and county of the beneficiary's residence. Only payments for covered services provided to enrollees are included in the amounts reimbursed; costs of administration, as well as deductibles, copayment amounts, and noncovered services specified by law, are excluded. Reimbursements under SMI to group practice prepayment plans dealing directly with SSA are also excluded, even though the enrollment figures include about 260,000 persons who are members of such plans. The amounts reimbursed under the hospital insurance portion of the program are based on interim rates that will be adjusted after the end of the accounting year on the basis of reasonable costs of operation; this is also true of reimbursements for home health and outpatient services in the supplementary medical insurance portion. Other payments under SMI are based on “allowed” (reasonable) charges for medical services determined on the basis of customary charges.

The 1967 amendments to the Social Security Act introduced a time limit on filing of claims. For bills incurred in the supplementary medical insurance portion of the program after March 1968, claims must be filed no later than the close of the calendar year following the year in which the services are furnished. For services provided during the last 3 months of the calendar year, bills may be submitted through the end of the second year following.

The reimbursement amounts included in this report reflect the date of payment, rather than the date the service was rendered. Differences in lags in submitting bills among providers and in making payments among the intermediaries and carriers serving the various geographic areas shown in the tables are, of course, reflected in the amounts reimbursed.

The average monthly per capita expenditures and average monthly per capita administrative expenses since the start of the health insurance program are shown below. The figures are based on data from the Federal hospital insurance and supplementary medical insurance trust funds.

Trust fund and year	Total expense	Reimbursement	Administrative expense
Hospital insurance trust fund: ¹
1968	$18.06	$17.65	$0.42
1967	14.82	14.49	.33

Supplementary medical insurance trust fund: ¹
1968 ²	7.68	6.86	.83
1967	6.09	5.58	.51
July-December 1966	1.67	1.20	.47

Part of the rise in average reimbursement represents the lag in the submission and payment of bills in 1968, and in 1967 for services rendered earlier. The delays encountered in the first months of the operation of the program likely exceed those in the flow of bills for services in 1968 that will be reimbursed in 1969.

The increases in per capita reimbursements under the hospital insurance portion of the program also reflect increased utilization and a considerable rise in hospital costs between the periods shown. For supplementary medical insurance benefits, the number of claims paid rose from 2 million in 1966 to 23 million in 1967 and to over 30 million in 1968, which undoubtedly contributed to the rise in administrative costs. At the same time, the rise in charges for and utilization of physician services is reflected in the increasing per capita reimbursement.

BENEFITS OF THE PROGRAM

Hospital Insurance (HI): The portion of the health insurance program that pays a large part of the cost of inpatient hospital care, posthospital extended care, home health service visits, and, until March 31, 1968, outpatient hospital diagnostic services. Hospital insurance pays for up to 90 days of hospitalization per benefit period. The benefit period begins with the first day of hospitalization and ends 60 days after discharge from the hospital or extended care facility. Effective January 1, 1968, each hospital insurance beneficiary also has a "lifetime reserve" of 60 additional days of inpatient hospital coverage. These additional days can be used at the patient's option whenever the 90 days covered in a benefit period are exhausted. Except for hospitals certified to provide emergency services only, payment is subject to the hospital's participation in the Medicare program, a deductible of $40, and a copayment of $10 per day for the 61st through 90th days of hospitalization per benefit period. Days used from the "lifetime reserve" are subject to copayment of $20 a day. Inpatient services in a tuberculosis or psychiatric hospital are included, with a lifetime limit of 190 days of covered services in psychiatric hospitals.

Hospital insurance also pays for all covered services in participating extended care facilities (ECF) for the first 20 days of such care per benefit period, following discharge from a hospital after a stay of 3 days or more, and within 14 days of discharge. The program pays for as many as 80 additional days in the ECF in the same benefit period, subject to a copayment of $5 a day. Up to 100 home health service visits provided by participating home health agencies are covered in the 12-month period following discharge from a participating hospital or extended care facility. Home health services must be established by the attending physician within 14 days after discharge from the participating hospital or extended care facility.

Supplementary Medical Insurance (SMI): The part of the program that provides payment for physicians' services, including home and office visits, up to 100 home health service visits per calendar year without prior hospitalization, outpatient hospital therapeutic services, outpatient physical therapy services, and after March 31, 1968, all outpatient hospital services, diagnostic X-rays and laboratory tests, radiation therapy, prosthetic devices, purchase or rental of durable medical equipment, ambulance services, and surgical dressings, splints, casts, and similar devices. After the beneficiary has paid the first $50, SMI pays for 80 percent of the allowed charges for covered services during the calendar year. Expenses incurred in the last quarter of a calendar year and applied to that year's deductible may also be applied to the deductible in the following calendar year. However, after March 31, 1968, the provisions concerning the deductible and the coinsurance do not apply to the services of radiologists and pathologists furnished to hospital inpatients.

THE INSURED POPULATION

The enrollment figures in the tables include those persons enrolled as of July 1, 1968, the midpoint of the calendar year, as shown by the information entered in the Social Security Administration records through April 1969. The data include additions of those individuals eligible for HI benefits with entitlement retroactive to or before July 1, 1968, and deletions from the files of those enrollees whose death occurred before July 1, 1968, if such information was known before the summary was made. The number of persons enrolled for supplementary medical insurance reflects enrollments recorded by April 1969 and terminations through death, withdrawal, or nonpayment of premiums on file by that date.

Enrollment in Hospital and/or Supplementary Medical Insurance: All persons aged 65 and over who enroll under hospital insurance and/or supplementary medical insurance. This total is larger than the total for hospital insurance because a small number of persons are eligible for medical insurance but not for hospital insurance.

Entitlement to Hospital Insurance. Nearly all persons aged 65 and over on July 1, 1966, were eligible for hospital insurance benefits. Automatically covered were all persons aged 65 and over who had filed applications and established entitlement for monthly social security benefits and those qualified for monthly railroad retirement benefits who were certified to the Social Security Administration by the Railroad Retirement Board. Other persons could establish entitlement at age 65 if they had reached that age before 1968, were U.S. citizens (or aliens lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States who had resided in this country continuously for the preceding 5-year period), and had met certain other requirements relating to the Internal Security Act of 1950 as amended, and had not been convicted of certain specified crimes against the security of the United States. Persons attaining age 65 in 1968, and not eligible under other provisions, needed at least 3 quarters of coverage under social security to be eligible for HI. Federal Government employees, active or retired, who were covered or could have been covered under the provisions of the Federal Employees Health Benefits Act of 1959 were not entitled to HI benefits but could obtain SMI protection by paying the required premium.

An eligible person is entitled to hospital insurance benefits beginning with the first day of the month in which he becomes 65 years of age. Hospital insurance protection may be retroactive for up to 12 months before the month in which an individual files an application, provided all other conditions for entitlement are met during that period.

Enrollment for Supplementary Medical Insurance. All persons entitled to HI benefits and retired Federal employees who are not entitled to those benefits may voluntarily obtain SMI coverage. A person who chooses to participate must pay a monthly premium, which is matched by an amount paid to the supplementary medical insurance trust fund by the Federal Government from general revenues. The law permits the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare to adjust the premium if medical costs rise.

Beginning with April 1968, the monthly premium paid by, or on behalf of, each SMI enrollee, originally set at $3, was raised to $4. This amount was matched by the Federal Government from general revenues for a total of $6 a month prior to April 1 and $8 per month subsequently.

Individuals may enroll in the SMI plan only during two periods—the initial and general enrollment periods. The initial enrollment period is 7 months in duration, beginning 3 months before and ending 3 months after the month in which the individual becomes 65 years of age. The general enrollment period is for those who fail to enroll during this initial enrollment period. Individuals who had attained age 65 before the Medicare program went into effect were enrolled during the first general enrollment period, which ran from September 1, 1965, through May 31, 1966. The next general enrollment period ran from October 1, 1967, through March 31, 1968.

The premium for persons receiving cash retirement benefits from social security or railroad retirement is deducted from their monthly checks. Up to April 1, 1968, social security or railroad retirement beneficiaries could request termination of their coverage under SMI only during a general enrollment period. Between October 1, 1967, and March 31, 1968, about 40,000 such withdrawals were requested. Under the 1967 amendments, effective with April 1, 1968, beneficiaries may give notice of withdrawal at any time and their coverage will be terminated at the close of the following calendar quarter. There were approximately 18,000 such requests for withdrawal between April and December 1968. Other enrollees who send premium payments directly to the Social Security Administration are provided a 90-day grace period for the payment of overdue premiums, after which coverage is automatically terminated. This procedure accounted for about 15,000 terminations in 1968.

Under the Medicare law, as amended in 1967, States are permitted to enter into agreements with the Secretary, based on a request made before January 1, 1970, to buy in—that is, to enroll and pay the medical insurance premiums—for public assistance recipients aged 65 or over who were receiving money payments under an approved public assistance plan and for all aged persons eligible to receive medical assistance under an approved Title XIX plan. As of December 31, 1968, 39 States, Guam, and the Virgin Islands had active agreements enrolling approximately 1.6 million public assistance recipients in the supplementary medical insurance plan.

Geographic Classification. Area of residence is the address to which the individual's monthly cash benefit check is being mailed. For persons not receiving such benefits, the mailing address given at the time they applied for health insurance benefits is used. Temporary or permanent changes of residence are reflected in the data to the extent that such changes are reported to the SSA by enrollees. The areas of residence include the 50 States, the District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and a total for "other outlying areas" that includes American Samoa, the Canal Zone, Canton Island, Caroline Island, Mariana Islands (other than Guam), Marshall Islands, Midway Islands, and Wake Island. Also included are several foreign countries, although health insurance benefits ordinarily may not be paid for items or services furnished outside the named jurisdictions of the United States. Individuals with a foreign address, for whom reimbursements are recorded, may represent persons for whom the current U.S. address has not yet been entered into the file or who were living in the United States when they received the covered medical services for which reimbursement was made. Where the address could not be identified, figures were included in the total for the United States, and shown as location unknown. In the report, Health Insurance for the Aged: Amounts Reimbursed by State and County, July 1966–December 1967, figures for "location unknown" were excluded from the U.S. total, but included in the overall total.

The primary divisions of the 50 States are, in general, counties. In Louisiana, however, these divisions are known as parishes. Alaska is divided into 21 economic areas, included here as the equivalent of counties. A number of cities that are independent of county organization are reported separately in Maryland, Missouri, and Virginia. The divisions of Puerto Rico are called municipios. Guam and the Virgin Islands are not further subdivided.

Data for some enrollees do not permit identification of county of residence; these persons are reported as residing in an "unknown" county.
